Company Profile

AVD Reform was established in 1978 with the idea of developing natural products to preserve psychophysical wellness.

We believe in the therapeutic power of medicinal plants and mushrooms, which we have always handled with a scientific approach. AVD supplement formulations are supported by evidence and data from studies conducted in partnership with universities and hospitals that enable the safe and effective use of our nutraceuticals. Respect for nature is paramount, an outlook that translates into a daily commitment to manufacturing using pollutant-free, standardised and high-quality starting materials.

All our conception, development and production processes are based on our extensive phytochemical knowledge of plants and their active ingredients. We test all the information gleaned from the traditional use of medicinal plants and medicinal mushrooms, as well as obtaining concentrated derivatives to develop modern delivery systems, such as drops, capsules and macerates.
